WE'RE LOOKING FOR INTERNS

We are offering internship opportunities in all the following areas. We will assign one intern per team. Please use the application link to apply internship positions.

CONTENT (PERSPECTIVE) TEAM

If you're looking for an internship where you can really have the opportunity to fly with your unique talents and abilities, this project might just be the perfect fit. In this role, help us provide a broadened & unique perspective of what family history is by working with our Perspective Team on content creation, new ideas, compiling plans, initiating challenges for our users, and helping us to create an overall better perspective of what family history truly is through our 21 day experiments. Interns will be given opportunities to apply current educational tools as well as develop new ideas and techniques with hands-on experience and a lot of room for growth.

We're looking for:

Writers, Editors, Creative Thinkers,
Genealogists, Interview Coordinators, Small
Project Managers

EXPERIMENT BENEFITS TEAM

If you're looking for an internship where you can really have the opportunity to fly with your unique talents and abilities, this project might just be the perfect fit. In this role, delve into the experiment aspect of this project with the Experiment Benefits team. Cultivate your analytical side by assisting in survey analysis, providing clarity and understanding to participants of the benefits. Aid in articulating effective experiment questions and methods for collecting informative data. Also help find evidence that already exists providing project benefit evidence. Interns will be given opportunities to apply current educational tools as well as develop new ideas and techniques with hands-on experience and a lot of room for growth.

MARKETING (INVITING) TEAM

If you're looking for an internship where you can really have the opportunity to fly with your unique talents and abilities, this project might just be the perfect fit. In this role, experience the excitement of marketing for a grassroots movement. Participate in creating an in-depth plan to invite, excite, entice, and encourage otherwise uninterested parties to come and participate as an experiment participant. Invite them to increase family connections with both living and deceased family as we conduct this informal experiment, examining the emotional and other benefits of increasing these connections. Use your creative skills and ideas along with your social media savvy and creative know-how to help build marketing campaigns, initiatives and relations. Interns will be given opportunities to apply current educational tools as well as develop new ideas and techniques with ample hands-on experience and a lot of room for growth and discovery.
